1. PRODUCTION WITH CAST ACRYLIC SHEETS

Artemis Acrylic products are manufactured from cast acrylic sheets of the Asterite® brand produced by Asterite International Ltd. Asterite International Ltd. is the world's largest acrylic monomer manufacturer. Acrylic bathtubs use acrylic sheets with thicknesses of 3.2 mm and 4 mm, depending on size and model. Acrylic, a polymer derived from chemical substances, provides an extremely durable and robust structure below certain temperatures, offering a long-lasting glossy and aesthetic surface. The preference for acrylic in the manufacturing of bathtubs and shower trays is due to its ability to be easily molded and shaped at temperatures between 170-190 °C. Thanks to these features, it can be cleaned easily and, in addition to its functional advantages, adds aesthetic value to bathrooms. Moreover, the proven safety and health suitability of acrylic material in medical fields such as orthopedics, dental fillings, and lenses make it a hygienic and safe product. For these reasons, the choice of acrylic material for your bathrooms is one of the determining factors.

- Lightweight.
- Durable.
- Easily takes shape at different temperatures due to its flexibility.
- Can be restored to its original state (100-1200 degrees) with water sanding and special polish in case of damage.
- Resistant to heat and ultraviolet rays, suitable for outdoor use like gardens and terraces.
- Does not allow the formation of wear.
- Proven to be extremely safe for health, recommended by the Ministry of Health for its hygienic properties.

2. OUTDOOR ACRYLIC USAGE

Our products are categorized into indoor and outdoor use based on the application area. While cast acrylic sheets are used for indoor products, more durable cast acrylic sheets resistant to sunlight, UV rays, wind, and rain are used for outdoor products. When placing an order, it is essential to specify whether it is intended for indoor or outdoor use. Due to their higher durability, outdoor acrylic sheets have a price difference compared to indoor ones, and an additional 50% is required for orders using outdoor acrylic sheets.

3. USE OF ALUMINUM MOLDS

Artemis products are meticulously designed to meet high-quality standards and ensure an excellent appearance. Symmetry aesthetics, achieved through horizontal and vertical dimensional uniformity, plays a crucial role in enhancing the visual appeal of products. Despite the higher cost compared to polyester molds, Artemis ensures the perfect form and symmetry of products by using specially designed aluminum molds.

Artemis bathtubs and shower trays are produced using over 900 aluminum molds and 100% acrylic sheets designed by Artemis R&D/Innovation Units. This wide variety of molds provides customers with alternatives in terms of models and dimensions. Aluminum molds provide superior durability and precision, while acrylic sheets offer a smooth surface, gloss, and an aesthetic appearance.

4.REINFORCEMENT APPLICATION

Fiberglass, Polyester Resin, and Plywood

Artemis products use high-quality 18mm thick dry plywood for reinforcement. Bathtubs are supported by adding plywood frames to all edges, plywood wedges to corners, and a complete plywood base for reinforcement.

Materials used for reinforcement include polyester resin, fiberglass, plywood, and components such as white-colored calcite, all sourced from leading international quality-certified companies in Turkey and Europe. Artemis aims to use the best materials to ensure the quality and durability of its products. Along with the reinforced structures, Artemis products guarantee reliability and long-lasting use.

5. GALVANIZED FOOT SYSTEM

The foot system of bathtubs and shower trays has a unique structure. Depending on size and shape, a frame system consisting of plastic-coated steel, with a diameter of Ø40, resting on the floor at least 5 to 14 points, is used. This foot system has a hot-dip galvanized coating for durability and protection.

The panel system is created by fixing at least two points on both the upper and lower parts to the frame. Thanks to the carefully designed foot and panel systems, Artemis products have a secure and robust structure. The feet aim to place the products stably and ensure optimal balance. The hot-dip galvanized coating enhances durability and provides protection against environmental effects. The panel system securely fastened to the frame supports the strength and durability of the products.
